

Volunteer Market Researchers

VacancyId: 1729

Region: Eastern England
Role Type: Market Research

Where: Various sites along the North Norfolk Coast

When: May, August and October 2011
Commitment: 2-3 days per month
Duration: May, August and October 2011

Why We Want You: The RSPB is working with the Norfolk Coast Partnership to assess the value of wildlife-related tourism to the economy of the North Norfolk Coast. We need volunteers to work 2-3 days a month in May, August and October asking visitors to popular wildlife-watching sites along the North Norfolk Coast questions about their visit. Full training will be given.

What's In It For You: An opportunity to spend some time at some of the most popular wildlife-watching sites on the North Norfolk Coast and getting an insight into why people visit.

A chance to contribute to the work of the RSPB and Norfolk Coast Partnership.

Requirements: We're looking for around twelve volunteers who are prepared to commit to 2-3 days volunteering a month during May, August and October.

You must enjoy meeting and talking to people and feel comfortable and confident enough to approach visitors and ask them to participate in the survey.

Full training will be provided and you will be working in pairs.

Notes: The RSPB speaks out for birds and wildlife, tackling the problems that threaten our environment. We rely upon memberships and donations to fund our work. By volunteering your time and skills, you could make a real difference to the work of the RSPB. Nature is amazing – help us keep it that way.

The Norfolk Coast Partnership was set up in 1991 to promote the sustainable use of the Norfolk Coast Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB). Its aims are to conserve and enhance the natural beauty of the area, to facilitate and enhance the public enjoyment, understanding and appreciation of the area and to provide sustainable forms of social and economic development that in themselves conserve and enhance the area's natural beauty.
